

Vyr & Mey

“Bone”

Episode 05

Version 02 – 7/12/2005

Vyr is holding a bone and whistles to attract the attention of a dog, who tries to grab the bone but is unable to do so, since he is tied to a leash.

Vyr pulls out a paintbrush from behind his back and paints the bone yellow. He shows the dog how the bone is more succulent in the color yellow.

The dog is starving and makes an effort to break free and grab the bone. Vyr eats the painted bone and makes a face to show that he is satisfied. The dog is salivating.

Vyr paints another bone and instead of eating it he performs a magic trick to make it disappear. The dog looks all around for the bone.

Vyr goes to the dog and releases it from its leash. Vyr holds on to the dog.

Mey appears running and stops close to the pair. He likes the dog and whistles to attract its attention.

The dog looks at Mey and confuses him with a bone due to the yellow color. Vyr maliciously lets go of the leash so that the dog attacks Mey. The dog jumps at Mey. Nothing happens and he is surprised.

We see Mey giving bone-shaped biscuits to the dog. And Mey places a strip of ketchup on each biscuit. The dog is sad when the ketchup finishes.

Vyr appears moaning to the dog, which starts to see Vyr as a large tub of ketchup and starts chasing him.

Lettering: “Dogs are a man’s best friend... when well fed”